About NJA-Nepal

The National Judicial Academy, Nepal (NJA-Nepal), established in 2004, serves as a vital institution for the training and research needs of Nepal's judiciary, government attorneys, judicial officers, and all those directly engaged in the administration of justice. NJA-Nepal's core mission is to bolster the knowledge, skills, and capacity of judicial personnel and foster a positive change in their attitudes. We achieve this through continuous judicial education, extensive research, and the dissemination of judicial insights, with the ultimate goal of advancing a fair, accountable, trustworthy, and accessible judicial system. In addition to providing judicial training, NJA-Nepal conducts pioneering research in the field of law and justice, contributing valuable legal literature to judges, judicial officers, government attorneys, legal officers, private law practitioners, and other stakeholders in the realm of judicial administration.

About NJA Law Journal

The NJA Law Journal, our flagship English-language publication, is now in its 20th year of operation. It stands as a powerful platform for the legal and judicial community to examine contemporary justice challenges in Nepal, propose recommendations for legal reform, and exchange knowledge and best practices from global jurisdictions. It is also available on Hein Online, which is an acclaimed research database and subscribed by universities and intuitions Worldwide. The NJA Law Journal has played a pivotal role in establishing NJA-Nepal as the premier institution for judicial training and research in Nepal and as a driving force for reforming the Nepali judiciary.

We are pleased to invite contributions for the 20th issue of the NJA Law Journal, a peer-reviewed law journal. The Editorial Board welcomes submissions that address current legal and judicial issues both in Nepal and abroad.
